EMI 2010 provides a major forum for the exchange of ideas and discussion of recent developments in all mechanics and materials research fields. The technical sessions and symposia on fundamentals, tools and applications serve to highlight and address educational needs, emerging thrusts, novel techniques, and innovative applications in areas that span across many engineering disciplines.

Researchers, engineers, industry representatives, public officials, and all others who have an interest are invited to attend and participate. The conference is a great opportunity to present and receive feedback on your work, to learn about progress in your areas of interest, and to have interactions and discussions with your colleagues and peers. Confirmed keynote speakers include: Franz-Joseph Ulm, MIT; James L. Beck, Cal Tech; and Peter Kuhn, The Scripps Research Institute.
